Essays in Love is a novel about two young people, who meet on an airplane between London and Paris and rapidly fall in love. The structure of the story isn't unusual, but what lends the book its interest is the extraordinary depth with which the emotions involved in the relationship are analysed. Love comes under the

An articulate account of 'first true love' and heartbreak. One is astonished by the record of fine detail and lucidity that de Botton maintains right all the way through the relationship, but again, no surprise from de Botton. It's a shame that such self-awareness didn't make for a better result (blinder mortals have achieved greater
