This research monograph explores the rapidly expanding field of networked music making and the ways in which musicians of different cultures improvise together online. It draws on extensive research to uncover the creative and cognitive approaches that geographically dispersed musicians develop to interact in displaced tele-improvisatory collaboration. It presents a multimodal analysis of

The Academy of Management is proud to announce the inaugural volume of The Academy of Management Annals.

This exciting new series follows one guiding principle: The advancement of knowledge is possible only by conducting a thorough examination of what is known and unknown in a given field. Such assessments can be accomplished through comprehensive, critical reviews of the literature—crafted by informed scholars who determine when a line of inquiry has gone astray, and how to steer the research back onto the proper path. The

Access Free

Academy of Journal
Management Annals
provide just such essential reviews.

Written by leading
management scholars,
the reviews are invaluable for ensuring the timeliness of advanced courses, for designing new investigative approaches, and for identifying faulty

methodological or conceptual assumptions.

The Annals strive each year to synthesize a vast array of primary research, recognizing past principal contributions while illuminating potential future avenues of inquiry. Volume 1 of the Annals explores a wide
spectrum of research:
corporate control;

employment; critical
management; physical
work environments;
public administration
team learning; emotions in organizations;
leadership and health care; creativity at work;
business and the environment; and bias in performance appraisals.
Ultimately, academic scholars in management
